H. M. SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!
IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.
It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., and has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.
It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL HILL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.
Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO APRIL 8.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—In the Senate, Morton attempted to offer a resolution, but Davis objected, requiring the Legislatures of the reconstructed States to ratify the Fifteenth Amendment before being admitted to representation in Congress.

Ramsey reported the House joint resolution granting the right of way for the construction of a railroad from Portland, Oregon, to a point west of the Cascade mountains.

Chandler, from the Committee on Commerce, reported without amendment, the House River and Harbor appropriation bill.

Trumbull, from the Judiciary Committee, reported, recommending that the consideration of the President's Message, received yesterday, be postponed till the 1st Monday in December. He said he made this report by direction of the Committee.

Sumner offered a concurrent resolution to rescind the resolution to adjourn on Saturday. He spoke in opposition to a speedy adjournment, desiring to finish the work of reconstruction and to take action in regard to the Pacific railroad difficulties and the election frauds in New York.

Conkling said the Senator from Massachusetts always opposed adjournments. He did not think Johnson and Sumner confederates, but these two eminent persons, during Johnson's administration, had been conspirators to keep Congress in session.

Sherman and Howard opposed Sumner's motion, providing to leave Virginia, Missouri and Georgia under military government till the next session, when Congress could properly consider the case.

Trumbull opposed rescinding the resolution. He favored providing by joint resolution for the submission of the Constitutions of Virginia and Mississippi to the people of those States, which could be done before Saturday.

The morning hour expired and the unfinished business and the bills relative to the whisky and tobacco tax came up.

Sumner moved to postpone and consider his resolution to rescind the adjournment resolution.

The Senate refused to postpone the regular order—26 ayes and 30 nays, and proceeded to consider the whisky bills.

Sprague orated on the state of the country generally. He read his argument in advocacy of his plan for loaning the public funds.

The House bill to authorize the submission of the Constitutions of Virginia and Mississippi to the people, was laid on the table and the Senate took a recess till evening.

Wilson, from the Military Committee, reported a joint resolution providing for the payment of bounties of soldiers direct, instead of through claim agents.

A resolution placing General Heintzleman on the retired list, was passed.

Anthony replied to Sprague's speech, ridiculing the style and manner of his colleague.

The House river and harbor appropriation bill was passed.

The motion to take up the joint resolution for the payment of the Southern Senators, was lost.

Trumbull called up the bill to punish the holding of offices in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment.

Thurman moved to strike out the second section, declaring the violation of such law a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment and disqualification by holding office.

Trumbull defined the section and Davis opposed it.

Fessenden, from the Committee of Conference, reported the Indian appropriation bill as agreed on in the report. The pending bill was farther discussed by Thurman, Morton and Trumbull, and it was finally postponed.

The Senate concurred in the House amendments to the judiciary bill, and adjourned.

In the House, the President's message was referred to the Reconstruction Committee, after some filibustering by the Democrats.

The resolution declaring L. A. Hoge entitled prima facie to the seat for the Third District of South Carolina, was passed.

Butler, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill authorizing the President, at such time as he believes best, to submit the Constitutions to the registered votes of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas; also to submit to a separate vote such provisions of said Constitutions as he deems proper. It also provides for the assembling of the Legislature if the Constitutions are ratified.

Paine offered a substitute, authorizing the President also to submit such Constitutions, besides the ones adopted by the Convention, as he deems proper, and that the State officers shall be voted for at the same election.

Farnsworth favored the original bill. He said it had received the unanimous vote of the Reconstruction Committee.

Brooks said he had voted for the bill reluctantly, but as he preferred the despotism of one man to the tyranny of many, he would vote for the bill and appeal to the President to be deserving. His heart might soften to these people.

Garfield moved to amend so that the States should be taken either on designated provisions alone, or in connection with other portions of the Constitution, as the President might desire.

Paine accepted the amendment and withdrew his substitute.

The amendment was agreed to, and the bill then passed by 124 to 24.

After a somewhat protracted discussion, Sheldon was admitted to his seat from the Second District of Louisiana.

In the House, at the evening session, a number of private bills were passed.

Bingham moved to take the Senate bill to amend the judiciary system from the Speaker's table, and that the Senate amendment to the House amendments be non-concurred in, and a committee of conference requested.

Bingham stated his objection to the bill.

The discussion was interrupted by Dawes presenting the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill. The Senate recedes from the amendment making appropriations under the new treaties, and agrees to the House substitute placing $2,000,000 at the disposal of the President, with an additional provision authorizing the appointment of a Commission of ten persons, eminent for intelligence and philanthrophy, to exercise control with the Secretary of the Interior over the disbursements for Indians.

The Senate also agrees to the House amendment against the approval or ratification of the Indian treaties made since July, 1867.

Dawes explained the report, showing that the principle for which the House contended was preserved. He stated, in reply to a question, that the whole amount appropriated is $7,000,000, and the whole thing is taken out of the Indian Bureau and placed under control of the President.

After discussion, the previous question was ordered and the report was agreed to.

The discussion of the judiciary bill was resumed.

Finally Schenck proposed to concur in all the Senate amendments but the one in reference to retiring Judges seventy years of age, and moved to amend by providing that Judges having held a commission at least ten years, and having attained the age of seventy, shall be permitted to resign. The amendment was agreed to and the Senate amendments were then concurred in.

The contested election case in the Third Election District of Pennsylvania was considered without action.

Several bills were introduced and the Senate adjourned.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The Committee on Reconstruction have agreed to report a bill in accordance with the President's wishes in regard to Mississippi and Virginia. Also containing a section enabling those States to adopt their Constitutions.

The Senate has confirmed Plumb as Consul General at Havana. Young, District Attorney for Oregon; Dennison Chief Justice for Washington Territory; Evans, Associate; H. D. Washburn, Surveyor General of Montana; Prescott, Register of Land Office at Prescott, Arizona.

The President sent in all the Alabama claims correspondence to the Senate to day.

Miscellaneous.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—Eaton was executed to-day for the murder of Timothy Heenan.

PROVIDENCE, April 8.—Padelford's majority is 3,336. The Senate stands 28 Republicans to 7 Democrats. The House 60 Republican to 12 Democrats.

ST LOUIS, April 8.—General W. A. Nichols, Adjutant General of the Military Division of Missouri, died this morning after an illness of three weeks.

NEW YORK, April 8.—It is rumored that a late Prussian mail from Bremen was robbed of over a million dollars. The postoffice detectives of the department profess no knowledge of the matter.

Judge Blatchford has refused to grant a stay of proceedings in the Union Pacific case.

In the supreme court Judge Barnard announced that Durant and Cisco act under the opinion of Judge Blatchford, and will not appear before the supreme court. Field, counsel for Fisk, characterizes Blatchford's opinion as a more flagrant case of extra judicial opinion than the Dred Scott case. He said the absorption of State powers into the Federal authorities had proceeded far enough. Judge Barnard rendered an opinion, acknowledging no superior but the upper courts of the State, and the supreme court of New York. He said he would submit to no other. Fisk and Gould issued a circular stating that they are not opposed or interested in the above suit in any case, they being the agents for the Central Pacific, and declaring that the latter company is faithfully applying its subsidies and thoroughly fulfilling its obligations to the Government. The circular, after recapitulating the points of difference between the Union and Central Pacific railroad companies, says the actual connection of the two lines will be in May. Passengers, mail, etc., will be forwarded without interruption till the meeting point is determined.

FROM THE DALLES.—We clip the subjoined items from the Mountaineer of yesterday: We made a short visit to the Mint on Wednesday morning, where we found the work in charge of Mr. Clark going on quite rapidly, some fourteen or fifteen men being employed at the building .....Several miners crossed the river at this place on Thursday morning for the purpose of going over into the basin between Mount Adams and Rainier, to see if they can find anything of the whereabouts of parties supposed to be there prospecting a silver mine. The Columbia river continues to gradually rise. We will not be troubled with high water this summer, owing to scarcity of snow in the mountains, which is extremely light compared with former years. ....The Indians have been catching some of the finest and largest salmon trout we have ever seen. They weigh from ten to twenty-five pounds.....The thermometer on Monday last stood 86° in the shade.....The freighting this year by the O. S. N. Company so far has been very good, and is gradually increasing.....Mr. John Tarpert, of Eight Mile, while branding horses on Wednesday last, had one of his legs broken by a horse falling on him. Doctors Mitchell and Brooks were sent for, who on their arrival soon set the leg and made the unfortunate man comfortable .....On Friday evening last, between eight and nine o'clock, an affray took place in front of the Empire Hotel, between John H. Dexter and L. Stanley, the particulars of which appear to be as follows: Dexter, who was somewhat in liquor, became enraged at Stanley because he refused to go security for his board at the Empire Hotel, and therefore made the attack upon Stanley who armed himself with a pocket knife, striking Dexter with the knife in the right side on the lower rib, making a serious though not dangerous wound. Stanley gave himself up to the authorities on Tuesday, and on examination before Squire John Williams, he was honorably discharged, it being proven that he acted entirely in self-defence.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—The following items are from the Advocate of yesterday: Rev. J. S. McCain writes April 1st: "We began a second meeting at King's Valley on Sabbath, March 14th, and continued it over one week. Four persons professed conversion, five united with the Church, and the revival spirit still continues. .....Rev. W. J. Cooper called on us this week and reports a gracious revival of religion at Mt. Tabor, three miles east of Portland. On last Sabbath eight persons united with the Church. On Monday night eight persons came forward for prayers, earnestly seeking religion. A number have been converted. The meeting is continued..... Rev. G. C. Roe writes from his home at Aurora: "We [illegible] our quarterly meeting until Wednesday night when other engagements called us away. It was with great reluctance that we closed the meeting, as God was powerfully the hearts of the people. Right [illegible] the Church, and others will [illegible] from Rev. Mr. Driver, written at Seattle, [illegible], says: "I have been on the Sound 29 days [illegible] times. So you see I have not been [illegible] three weeks at Olympia, where I preached every night, every Sabbath twice, and on a week day twice."

The [illegible] of yesterday contains a notice of the recent [illegible] day School concert given at the Dalles by the [illegible] school, from which we quote the following: "From the Superintendent's report we learn that the numbers on the roll book for the quarter just ended was 132; average attendance, 107; number on the roll of honor, 124; present every Sunday, 60—that is there were [illegible] who attended every Sunday during the [illegible]."

CONVENTION OF THE PREACHERS OF SALEM DISTRICT.—Rev. O. C. Stratton publishes the following announcement:

At a preliminary meeting held in Salem March 24th, 1869, it was resolved to hold in Albany a Convention of the local and traveling preachers of this district, beginning [illegible], May 25th, at 1 o'clock P. M., and continuing until [illegible] evening.

The following subjects were adopted for discussion, and those whose names appear severally opposite, were requested to prepare appropriate essays and addresses for the occasion:

The Trinity—J. S. McCain, R. Garrison.

THE FIRST THEATER.—The drama of "The Lancashire Lass" failed to draw more than a third house last evening. The play has some merit as regards both incident and plot, but following upon such a piece as Arrah-na-Pogue proved little better than a failure. Mr. Wheatleigh's "Party of the name of Johnson" was true enough to life to the character; but the character itself, without being at all brilliant or striking, is totally irredeemable, and the only thing in the entire representation which calls for a single expression of gratification, on the part of the audience, is where, in the last act, he kills Redburn, a convict and a greater villain than he all [illegible] Bates, as she always does, made the most of her part as Ruth Kirby. In the act where she procures the release from prison of her lover, Neil Clayton, and defies and baffles his accuser, the villain Redburn, she sang a well-selected piece of sacring, and was heartily applauded. Mr. F. Thayer gave us another proof of his versatility, in his personation of the rustic, Ned Clayton. Mr. Thayer's Redburn was very good. Miss Field acquitted herself well as Kate Garston. Vinson's M. Jolicoeur was first rate, being not only pathetic but laughable [illegible] which we take to have been the intention of the author. The scene, however, which elicited the greatest applause was that in which Sergeant Donovan (Mr. Hamilton) "arrests" and captured his special pet villain, "Old Dick." The tableau was good, and the audience compelled the curtain to go up on it again.

[illegible] at the matinee, and this evening the beautiful and favorite drama of Arrah-na-Pogue will be [illegible], for which Mr. Bates, the manager, will receive the universal thanks of the public.

NEWSPAPERS.—The Commercial, speaking of the destruction of the building a legitimate theatrical company [illegible] Elsie, we will [illegible] the fact that Lawrence Barrett and John McCullough have been induced by the liberality of [illegible] to establish themselves permanently in that city in the management of the new theater, and adds: "We [illegible] not that if a proper effort was put forth, Mr. [illegible] could be induced to identify himself with the Portland stage." Now, while we [illegible] to Mr. Wheatleigh as a man or actor, we think it, the extract we have quoted is decidedly cool [illegible] treatment of Mr. Bates and the excellent [illegible] he had here, before Mr. Wheatleigh came. The way we put the matter up, if there is anybody entitled to credit for the excellence of our dramatic [illegible], it is Mr. Bates, who, with his wife and the [illegible], has done about all the hard work of establishing the Fine as a first-class theater. "Honor to whom honor is due," say we.

FROM COLUMBIA.—Our correspondent at Umatilla [illegible], April 7th: "The archives of this county were [illegible] to day to Pendleton, by order of the County Court.....A school meeting was held in this district (Umatilla) on the 5th inst. R. N. Stanfield was elected clerk; [illegible] Director, to serve three years, and L. [illegible] to fill vacancy, to serve one year..... Considerable [illegible] is being shipped by pack trains and ox teams [illegible]. ....Sam took place yesterday between N. Ford [illegible]. The latter struck Ford in the face, [illegible], with some hard substance which he held in his hand, inflicting a wound on his cheek and on the side of his face below the temple. Ford made two or three passes at him with a chair. Both are convalescent. [illegible] and his men are on the Meacham Pass in the Blue Mountains.....The farmers are generally done [illegible]. Mr. John Halley is here with his family. They are on their way to Boise City, where they intend to reside."

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—Mr. Pittinger, school superintendent of Washington county, his wife and sister-in-law, while on the road to this city in a double buggy on Tuesday, met with an accident, by which all three were more or less injured. The team becoming frightened, [illegible] to one side, throwing Mrs. P. out of the buggy. Her face was badly bruised and she was stunned so as to be partially insensible. In his efforts to control the team, Mr. Pittinger reined them too far the other way, [illegible] ping the fore wheel under the box of the buggy, by which his sister-in-law was thrown out and severely bruised. Next, the horses became detached from the buggy and as Mr. Pittenger held on firmly to the reins, he was drawn out headlong upon the ground. He received a severe wound upon the face and his left wrist was badly sprained. The parties all reached the city Tuesday night, but in a condition much the worse for wear.

CROP PROSPECTS IN LINN COUNTY.—A gentleman from the upper portion of Linn county informs us, says the [illegible], that the prospects for grain this season are very flattering. Where ten acres were sown last year, at least twenty five are this spring. The winter wheat in many localities is knee high, and looks remarkably well. The hills look verdant from a vigorous growth of grass, and stock are generally in good condition. A number of families contemplate removing to the Goose Lake country in a few months, among the number, our informant.

BOARD OF DELEGATES.—The special meeting of the Board of Delegates, called for Thursday evening, did not take place, in consequence of the failure of the Secretary to give the requisite notice. Several of the Delegates went to the Council Chamber, but upon the fact as to want of notice, appearing, they concluded to hold no session, and agreed to hold a special meeting next Monday evening. Notice to that effect appears in the advertising columns this morning.

SPECIAL TERM OF COURT.—A special term of the Circuit, Judge Upton presiding, will be held on Monday, to try the cause from Clackamas county in which the county is plaintiff and the P. T. Co. defendant. It is the suit [illegible] concerning the right of way along the river bank between Oregon City and Canemah. There may be also, a few other cases tried which may prolong the time three or four days.

THE OREGON DEUTSCHE ZEITUNG.—We are requested by Mr. Landenburger, the proprietor, to state that owing to an accident to the press, the above paper will not be issued to-day. If repairs can be made in time, the Zeitung will appear on Tuesday and regularly on Thursday thereafter.

SELECT SCHOOL.—We call the attention of our city readers to the advertisement of "Select School," by Mrs. H. C. Brown, who will open the 3d quarter one week from [illegible] next.

"REPREHENSIBLE."—The Herald of yesterday morning sticks its nose into our affairs in this wise: "It is with regret, therefore, that we observe the attitude assumed by our morning contemporary. Because of some misunderstanding, as we learn of a business character, between the publisher of that paper and the manager of the theater, the local of the OREGONIAN is compelled to forego a street and full discharge of his duty as a reporter. He attends the theater and witnesses the rendition of plays and yet is enjoined from telling the public anything about it. Now we submit that this course is entirely unjournalistic. Let News, with all due respect to the nose stuck out our starry eyed wish to inquire: Who is running the OREGONIAN? In the mildest manner possible we will suggest that when it is found necessary to have help or advice in the business or editorial conduct of this paper the proprietor will engage a man upon salary for that especial purpose. No! shoemaker! need apply.

NOT SO.—The dispatch to the San Francisco Herald, of April 1st, published in the Herald of this city yesterday morning announcing the death, at New York of Mrs. Charles Wheatleigh was a hoax. Mrs. Wheatleigh was at that date in the Dalles.

IN A NEW ROLE.—The Memphis Tri-Weekly Avalanche says the Rev. T. H. Pearne formerly of Oregon has retired from the missionary and become a Superintendent of Police in the city of Memphis.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamer Oregonian will sail to-day for San Francisco at 5 o'clock P. M.

TO SAIL.—The sailing of the steamship C. L. Taylor has been postponed to next Tuesday at 5 o'clock P. M.

SOIREE.—Prof. Carl's Hawaiian concert and vocal soiree will take place this evening at his dancing academy.

☞ A Special Meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department will be held at the Council Chamber at 7½ o'clock, P. M., on Monday, 12th April, 1869, for the purpose of hearing the report of the Committee on Cemetery and to entertain any business that may be brought before the meeting.

OFFICE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co.'s Hardware Store.
I am now making, amongst other numerous styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr. G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3d, 1867, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold: it not only makes the plate double as strong but cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common Plates. Call and see specimens.
N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr. G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates, can have it made out to them by applying to the office.

G. VENARD.
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a positively higher price even than the rapidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, pointing upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can do even only after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 10, 1869.

An Example of Honesty.

We find in the Cincinnati Commercial an elaborate article on the scheme recommended by Alexander Hamilton for funding the first national debt, which scheme was virtually adopted by Congress. It secured the payment of the whole debt at its face, in gold. The Commercial truly remarks that Hamilton's great report on the "Restoration of the Public Credit" was a performance which "marked him as a truly-wise and far-seeing statesman, capable of conceiving and maturing measures which placed the damaged and tottering of our infant confederation of States upon an impregnable basis of solvency. But no degree of devotion to the public interest was able to shield this great Secretary of the Treasury from the malignant shafts of calumny. There was then, as now, an intensely strong paper money party, who insisted upon paying the public debt only in the same money in which it was incurred. The funding bill of 1790, which secured the payment of the entire bonded debt of the United States at par, was the object of the most unmeasured denunciation at the hands of these post revolutionary repudiators. Thus wrote Callenher, one of the bitter partisans of the Jefferson school, in opposition to Hamilton's scheme of funding the public debt:

The funding of certificates to the extent of perhaps forty millions of dollars, at eight times the price which the holders had actually paid for them, presents one of the most egregious, the most impudent, the most oppressive, and the most provoking bubbles that ever burlesqued the legislative proceedings of any nation. The debt that could have been discharged for ten or fifteen millions of dollars was funded at forty millions."

This sum of forty millions constituted the domestic debt, which an ignorant Oregon editor has recently been declaring was funded at its market value in coin. It will be seen by the above that Washington's Administration, and Secretary Hamilton's in particular, were censured bitterly by contemporaneous writers for not funding and paying the debt in the manner in which this Oregon editor declares it was funded and paid. Hamilton arranged a scheme for paying the public creditor at par, and for this he was denounced by a dishonest horde like that which at this day wails the public credit and would be glad to repudiate utterly a debt which was incurred in quelling a causeless and wicked rebellion. In a pamphlet published by Hamilton himself in 1797, there occurs the following:

"Mainly because I entertained an opinion once common to me and the most influential of those who opposed me, that the public debt ought to be provided for on the basis of the contract upon which it was created, I have been wickedly accused with wantonly increasing the public burden many millions in order to promote a stock-jobbing interest of myself and friends.

"Such is the 18th charge now brought against me by those who desire to pay the present debt on the basis on which the revolutionary debt was paid. We ask our readers to observe that in providing for the payment of the present bonded debt at par in gold, the country is only following the example of honesty which was furnished us by the first Congress that assembled under the Constitution.

The Wool-Growers of the United States.

The National Association of Wool Manufacturers is an organization which is a little more than four years old. A short time after its formation, the Wool-Growers' National Association was originated. From a pamphlet recently issued at Boston we learn that these organizations are making an extensive effort to secure co-operative harmony between the manufacturers and growers of wool. Heretofore there has not only been a want of this harmony, but a feeling which might almost be called antagonism has existed between them. The two Associations, conceived as they are in a liberal spirit, seem to have been conducted thus far on a plane sufficiently broad, wise and practical. They have made arrangements for a grand exhibition in the city of New York, to take place next autumn, under the auspices of the American Institute. A building of ample dimensions is to be erected for the occasion, and separate spaces will be allotted to wool and woolens and their auxiliary arts. As this is the first organized attempt to exhibit on an extended scale and a systematic plan the progress and achievements of a great American industry, we may look forward with well grounded confidence to a successful result. The invitations will reach every part of our national domain, where wool is raised and where it is wrought. They will include every department of the wool industry and all the fabrics into which wool enters. They extend also to those industries and arts which are directly allied with the woolen manufacturer. Not least in interest will be the mechanical department, where the very processes of production will be presented to the eye, by hundreds of ingenious machines in actual motion. As the exhibition is strictly national in its aim, its object being to make better known the extent, variety and capabilities of our wool industry, rather than to pronounce on the comparative merits of competing manufacturers, "no awards will be made to exhibitors." This feature is a good one. None will be prevented from sending by fears of unsuccessful competition, and all who will send will be relieved from a never-failing and ever-fruitful source of ill-feeling and complaint. Oregon has some interest in the matter of woolen manufactures, and we hope our State Agricultural Society will take some measures to have Oregon represented at the exhibition.

Johnson's "Farewell Address."

We believe Johnson's "farewell address" has not been taken off better than in the following from the New York Tribune:

Mr. Johnson began his career as Provisional Governor by imitating Moses; as Vice President by imitating Bacchus; as President by imitating Ancient Pistol, who never breathed out more or more harmless threatenings and slaughter. Moses, Bacchus and Ancient Pistol have now all lost favor in his Excellency's eyes. He appeared before the curtain on the morning of the 4th inst., for the last time, and in the clothes of Geo. Washington. Like many other indifferent performers, however, he cannot shake off his late characters sufficiently to enter into the spirit of the present one; and so we find ourselves constantly at a loss to determine whether it is Moses, or Bacchus, or Ancient Pistol who is masquerading before us in the court costume of the Father of his Country. Mr. Johnson got tired of sending fruitless messages to Congress, so he discharged this one at the inoffending heads of the people, who certainly never did any harm excepting to refuse to vote for him. He informs them that he has lost faith in appeals to the country against the encroachments of Congress—which is not to be wondered at, considering the luck he has had with his appeals, from the days of the Philadelphia Convention down. He has made up his mind that the war was a stupendous and deplorable mistake—which explains his constant acting as if he thought he other side in it had won. He is desirous of burying all hostile feelings in the grave of the past—but he has thought better of his fiercely announced determination to fill that grave also with the bodies of a great many traitors. He tells us that he has refused kingly powers—which we take to be a coy hint to Spain that he only needs a little coaxing. Before setting out for that realm of renown, he leaves with us his pocket copy of the Constitution, and the map from which he has learned our liberties to a tyrannical Congress—by pointing us to the solemn and startling fact that, in spite of his protestations, we elected the Congress and wouldn't elect him. Naturally and fittingly he thereupon closes by a terrible story of the deeds this Congress has done, and a call upon the tongue-tied pardon-brokers to tell at whose hands he has received any bribe. Exit a party by the name of Johnson.

Small Notes

The New York World attempts to deny that the Democratic organization of that city known as the Manhattan Club gave a reception and a dinner to Breckinridge on his return from Exile. But Brick Pomeroy's Democrat persists that the Manhattan Club dinner was given, the World's denial to the contrary notwithstanding. It says when Breckinridge was here, he dined there, and so far from being a discredit to the club or its sugar-coated members, as the World would make us think, it was an honor which the institution does not enjoy often.

The following from the New York Independent is extremely well done. Lady Morgan in one of her novels, describes the death-bed of a personage who closes his valedictory to his friends and relatives with the pious words "I die in the true spirit of a Christian, leaving my bitter curse to Corny Kelley." Andrew Johnson's farewell address seemed to be inspired by the same sort of spirit. Certainly, it expressed the same sort of sentiments. Mr. Puff was sorry he could not so arrange matters that a group of his characters might be disposed of in the words "Exeunt praying." The historian may finish up Andrew Johnson with the words "Exit cursing."

THE CABINET.—Says the St. Louis Democrat of March 23d: "The new Cabinet is giving the greatest satisfaction to the country. One fact in particular is to be remarked: Every member is a sound and unquestioned Republican; but of the whole seven, not one sought or desired his position. Like the President, each member can say, "the office came to me unsought." The President and Cabinet will work in perfect harmony, and with a sincere determination to place the country on its feet by administering the Government with honesty, faithfulness and economy in every department. With the President and his counsellors agreed in their action we may feel certain that the policy of the administration will in no respect be far wrong."

THE EAST.

The British and Foreign Bible society will send one million new testaments into Spain.

The Chicago Times prints its religious intelligence under the heading "Theoligical Hash."

A personal in a New York paper reads: "Indian meal is too beating. What will you do?"

The New York Herald lately contained over forty-four columns of new advertisements in a Sunday morning edition.

A Buffalo detective lately affected greenness at Niagara Falls and allowed the swindling guides to "put him through," after which he had the rare pleasure of putting them through.

Missouri has grown in population fifty per cent. in four years; in property two hundred millions of dollars in eight years: has paid in three years twenty-three millions of old debts, and votes the radical ticket straight and strong.

The cotton crop of South Carolina for 1868 is now ascertained to be about 250,000 bales, which, at $100 per bale, will be $25,000,000. It has more money value than any other ever produced, although falling short 50,000 bales.

The Land we Love has been consolidated with the New Eclectic, published at Baltimore. The death of the former publication is evidence of the growing intellectual health of the South, for it was bitterly rebel in tone, and as stupid as it was malignant.

The Fenian Brotherhood in Chicago have appointed committees in each ward for the purpose of collecting one dollar from every Irishman and woman, there for the purpose of transforming the present arms of the organization into breech loaders.

An addition will shortly be made to the fleet of American merchant steamers now running on the rivers of China, two steamers intended for inland navigation in that country having left New York for Shanghai, proceeding thither by way of the Cape de Verde Islands and the Cape of Good Hope.

Gen. James T. Worthington, of Chillicothe, Ohio, has successfully cultivated figs in his garden for several years, and has published a pamphlet giving practical information of his mode of culture. Mr. Worthington says that wherever the tomato can be grown the fig will flourish and mature.

An exchange suggests that the several States adopt the custom of carrying out capital punishment employed in Europe, where the task of executing the sentence of the law is entrusted to a single individual. By pursuing this course we are told the business of hanging will be performed in a practical manner, and there will be an end to the horrible butcheries reported throughout the country.

There has been a little investigation in Congress concerning expenses. The committe on accounts was ordered to make a report on the subject which they did through Mr. Broomall of Pennsylvania. The report shows that the Senate expense for folding documents alone in the year 1868 amounted to $119,977. Of course that does not include the greater expense of these documents which is for paper, printing, binding, delivery, etc. The report says the expenditure for public documents should be cut down at least four fifths.

A Massachusetts Legislative Committee on so much of the Governor's Message as relates to the depression of commerce, have submitted their report. The minority report, submitted by Mr. Nash, of Boston, is quite lengthy; it discusses several topics of interest to the mercantile public, and, indeed, to all business men. It is argued that American commerce, which had been stimulated in its growth by the discovery of gold in California, had begun to decline two years before the rebellion, but that its present depression is now owing to heavy taxation and a false system of currency.

A Washington paper of the 21st March gives the following good thing: G. W. Hatton, colored, is a scavenger for the Fourth Ward. He is also Brigadier General of the Boys in Blue. A pernacious office-seeker, who is boring everybody for recommendations, called on Mr. Hatton today for his official signature—meaning, of course, as "B. G. of the B. I. B." Hatton, who is some thing of a joker, promptly complied, and signed himself in letters so large that he who runs might read, "Geo. W. Hatton, Scavenger, Fourth Ward." The last seen of the distinguished office seeker he was hard at work with a big eraser, endeavoring to expunge this most unsatisfactory official indorsement.

A man died in New York recently whose heart and liver had changed places—at least the heart was where his liver should have been and vice versa. He was "a well known citizen," and took a deep interest in the sanitary and other affairs of the city. He was a genius, in short, and besides his love for the fine arts, he had invented an organ of vast proportions, which will play unaided the whole music of several operas. His body found its way into the dissecting room, where the surgeons found something wholly new. When the sternum was divided, the amazing discovery was made that the heart and the liver had changed places, the heart being on the right side and the liver on the left. This change in the two great vital organs changed also the position of the other organs, and caused an extension of some of the vital ducts. Nature had created order out of the disorder, so that there need be no serious interruption to the vital functions.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The steamer Constitution sailed to-day with seven hundred and thirty eight passengers.

Dr. J. H. Josselyn, who was convicted some time since of abortion, and sentenced to three years imprisonment, absconded on the Panama steamer to-day. He had appealed the case to the Supreme Court and was under $6,500 bonds. He was seen to go on the steamer.

The jury in the Reed Clark breach of promise case awarded the plaintiff $1,000 damages. The verdict appeared to give satisfaction to the immense crowd of spectators.

Ah Kow, under sentence of death, committed suicide between one and four o'clock this morning, in the county jail, by hanging himself to the ventilator in the cell with a cord twisted from his overshirt. It is stated that he had killed two men, one in Shasta and the other in Weaverville.

Capt. Gorham, of the bark Glimpse, arrested to-day, by the U. S. Marshal on a charge of beating Stephen Stepanoff, a sailor.

Col. Casey will enter on his duties as Collector of Internal Revenue in place of Frank Soule on Monday next.

NEVADA

VIRGINIA CITY, April 9.—All hopes having been given up that the eight or ten men confined in the burning mine could be alive, at 11 A. M. to-day measures were taken to close the shafts with planks, wet cloths, dirt, &c., and a stream sent down each shaft. This has been continued up to last advices. Every hope is felt that this means will be successful in extinguishing the fire. It is well known that the fire has not extended northward towards the Yellow Jacket shaft, nor below the 800 foot level, but has extended upward to the 700 foot level. No one has been able to get in south of the fire, owing to the draft carrying the smoke and gas in that direction. The exact extent of the burnt district is yet a mystery. No bodies recovered since yesterday. The Coroner has commenced his inquest and probably will not conclude for some days.

A benefit for the sufferers by the Gold Hill fire, has been tendered by Miss Amy Stone at Pike's Opera House, to come off on Monday evening next.

Timothy Griffin, a miner for the past seven months, in the Yellow Jacket, had a warning dream on Monday night that something terrible would happen if he went into the mine again. It so worked upon his fears that he quit work and went to San Francisco Tuesday night. Michael McCormick, one of the killed, effected an insurance on his life only five days previous to his death for $2,500. Michael McCormick, George Tompkins, Geo. Bickell and Thos. Toland, were buried to-day. The body of Patrick Buckley will be forwarded to Grass Valley.

To-night the ponies of both express companies arrived at 5 25, about neck and neck.

The Union Republican Convention of Washington Territory meets on the 20th inst. for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Delegate to Congress.

A telegram says twenty of Brigham Young's wives arrived at Council Bluffs, including Miss Folsom, Brigham's latest fancy. All are bound for Washington.

The Chicago Courant has the following interesting paragraph to those who have the White Pine fever: We were shown a letter a few days since received by Charley Wood, from a friend at White Pine. He writes that the country is a great blik. There are three or four good paying claims, and acres of "wild cat." The ore taken out of the much-talked off Chloride Flat cannot be worked by mill process. He says that the only money made is by selling claims to new comers (greenhorns) who are crazy to buy anything. He has two claims, which, when he sells them, he will leave the god forsaken country.

Col. Hudnutt and his engineer corps have retraced their steps back to Snake river, finding it impossible to cross the Blue mountains in the neighborhood of the present wagon road running from Umatilla to Boise City. He intends trying the Malheur or the Burnt river passes next, over either of which we believe he will be able to make it. This will be good news for the John Day Valley settlers. We take this from the Mountaineer. The same paper has later intelligence, however, which indicates that the Colonel is still prosecuting his survey on this side of the mountains, and will soon reach the Columbia river.

The Republicans of Klikitat county, W. T., have nominated the following ticket: For Joint Representative, H. D. Cook; for Probate Judge, Wm. Taylor; County Commissioners, H. M. McNary, John Burgan and C. Goodnoe; Auditor, M. V. Harper; Sheriff, A. Schuster; Treasurer, Wm. Hickenbotham; Assessor, A. Schuster; School Superintendent, Thomas Johnson. Central County Committee, William Hickenbotham, Thomas Johnson, H. M. McNary. Thomas Johnson was elected Delegate to the Territorial Convention, with instructions to vote for S. Garfields for Delegate to Congress.

A correspondent at Canyon City writes to the Mountaineer, under date of March 30th: A serious and fatal affair occurred here yesterday morning, resulting in the death of Charles Carr, a young man who has been for some time past in the employ of W. N. Bonham, Esq. The circumstances were as follows. It appears that Carr and a man by the name of Jacob Byers, who also has been in the employ of Bonham, had some time since some difficulty in relation to some talk in reference to affairs on the ranch. Byers left Mr. Bonham and on yesterday morning him and Mr. Carr met in the store of Gundlach Bros., in this city. Carr asked Byers if he had said so and so. Byers answered him, in a quiet way, that he had not. Carr said it was a d—d lie and struck Byers. They clinched and had quite a scuffle, when Mr Bonham stepped into the store and parted them. It was then discovered that Carr was cut, and when asked by Mr. Bonham if he was cut, replied, "Yes, he has cut me all to pieces," and fell and expired in a few moments without uttering another word. On examining Carr, he was, indeed, as he said, cut to pieces. His left hand was nearly severed from the arm, his left arm cut near the elbow joint in a dreadful manner, severing the bone almost in two, his right arm cut near the shoulder, and his head cut to the skull in several places; but the fatal stab was in the left side just under the ribs and ranging up.

A Swiss paper mentions the fact that General Geo. McClellan predicted Grant's election by an overwhelming majority, as soon as he had read the proceedings of the New York Convention.

Chang and Eng are married to two sisters, the daughters of an American clergyman. Each brother has nine children. The family of Eng consists of six sons and three daughters, the family of Chang consists of three sons and six daughters. Their first children were born within three days of each other, the others at regular intervals. Chang's ninth child was born three months ago.

A New York paper gives the following reason why Henry Ward Beecher ought not to receive to Montreal: "There is, doubtless, a well written obituary notice of the distinguished gentleman in every well regulated newspaper office in the country, and they all locate him at Plymouth Church. It is not likely that he would go back on the press in any such way as his Montreal business would indicate."

A. T. Stewart's Resignation.

The following is the letter of declination written by A. T. Stewart to President Grant:

WASHINGTON, March 9, 1869.

TO THE PRESIDENT—Sir: Appreciating the high honor conferred by your nomination and the unanimous confirmation by the Senate, of myself to the office of Secretary of the Treasury, I regret that circumstances beyond my control compel me to decline. Could the difficulties presented by the provisions of the act of 1789 (which, in organizing the department of the Treasury prohibit the Secretary from being directly or indirectly concerned or interested in carrying on the business of trade or commerce) be overcome by any reasonable sacrifice, personal to myself, I would willingly make it. I would promptly transfer to the hands of gentlemen in whom the public has full confidence, every interest in the gains and profits that could possibly occur to myself in the business of my house during my official term, to be applied to such charitable purposes as their judgment should dictate, and have proposed and sought by the execution of the appropriate instruments to accomplish that end.

But serious differences of opinion have been expressed as to whether that course would satisfy the requirements of the law. Although I will not hesitate to make this appropriation, provided it would enable me to accept the office, and thus unite my efforts with your own and those of the other members of your Cabinet in restoring economy, honesty and strict frugality in the administration of the government, and lift as rapidly as practicable from the people the great burdens of taxation, debt and extravagance resting upon them, yet the business relations of my firm, in its connections with others, largely interested in their continuance, are such that they cannot be severed summarily, nor can my interest in it be wholly and absolutely disposed of, without producing great embarrassment and loss to those with whom I have been connected. I cannot consent to enter upon the administration of laws by any act or course that may be construed into a disregard or a violation of law; and while, therefore, I regret that the plan proposed is deemed inadequate to relieve me from legal, and, as it seems to me, technical, disabilities, I yield to better judgment of others, rather than seem to be willing to accept a position in disrespect of law.

In finally renewing the declination which was tendered at the outset of these objections, I repeat to you, Mr. President, my thanks for the honor done me in offering this high position to me, and assure you that you will have my earnest efforts to sustain your administration in carrying out the wise and salutary measures indicated by you on entering upon your office. Sincerely your friend, ALEX. T. STEWART.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION has filled the various offices; so have BARMAN BROS., filled their spacious store, corner Front and Morrison Streets, with the Latest Styles of Merchant Tailoring Goods, consisting of French Cassimeres, Beaver, Broadcloths and all kinds of Vestings, also a fine Stock of Ready Made Clothing, and Gents' Furnishing Goods, which they are enabled to sell lower than any other House in their city, as their Mr. Isaac Barman is constantly in the San Francisco market, purchasing at the most advantageous prices, of which their customers always have the benefit. Go and see them—no trouble to show goods.

DEATH: DEATH!—Adulteration, Sure Death.—The World newspaper has exposed the vast amount of deleterious adulteration of liquors and groceries, but in the Drug business it is carried on to a greater extent, thus producing Death, in consequence of physicians not obtaining the desired results from their remedies. The Drugs and Medicines at the Oregon Dispensary are fresh and pure; hence all of our first class Doctors prefer our store to any other in this city.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.—The constant buzz of activity at KOHN & FISHEL'S yesterday, was occasioned by the receipt and opening of a very large and complete stock of Clothing and Furnishing Goods—Spring Styles—purchased and sent up from San Francisco, by Mr. Fishel, who is acknowledged to be one of the best judges of that line of goods, doing business in this city. Call and see the Spring Styles.
